

GEG Promotes Online Photo Exhibition on National Security Education to Team Members

April 16, 2020 – Galaxy Entertainment Group (“GEG”) has proactively organized a range of activities to expand team members’ understanding and knowledge of national and local development. To mark this year’s National Security Education Day, the Macau SAR Government and the Liaison Office of the Central People’s Government in the Macau SAR have co-organized an online exhibition of photographs on the theme of national security. To encourage team members to visit the online exhibition and help enhance team members’ awareness on their responsibilities for national security, GEG promoted the exhibition through its different communication platforms.

The online photo exhibition was launched on April 15 to mark this year’s National Security Education Day. The exhibition aims to promote Macau’s respective efforts towards achieving adequate economic diversification and the safeguarding of public security. Following the launch of the exhibition, GEG proactively promoted the exhibition among team members through a variety of internal communication channels, including the internal mobile application “GEG Buzz”, email and back-of-house televisions. Illustrating the concept of overall national security in the context of a changing and complex international setting, the exhibition seeks to promote fresh insights regarding legal developments on national security pursued respectively by the country as a whole and by Macau. GEG team members who visited the exhibition online perceived it is enlightening and comprehensive, adding that it has raised their awareness to the importance of national security.

GEG has endeavored to promote national education among team members and local young people on different fronts through a variety of platforms. Since 2008, GEG has been the title sponsor of the GEG Macau Cup – Youth National Education Competition and its educational trips for winning students. The annual competition has attracted more than 80,000 participants since its debut. GEG also made patriotic education one of the highlights of its annual Youth Achievement Program in order to enhance participants’ knowledge of the latest development of China and Macau which included organizing field trips to a number of Greater Bay Area cities.

– End –

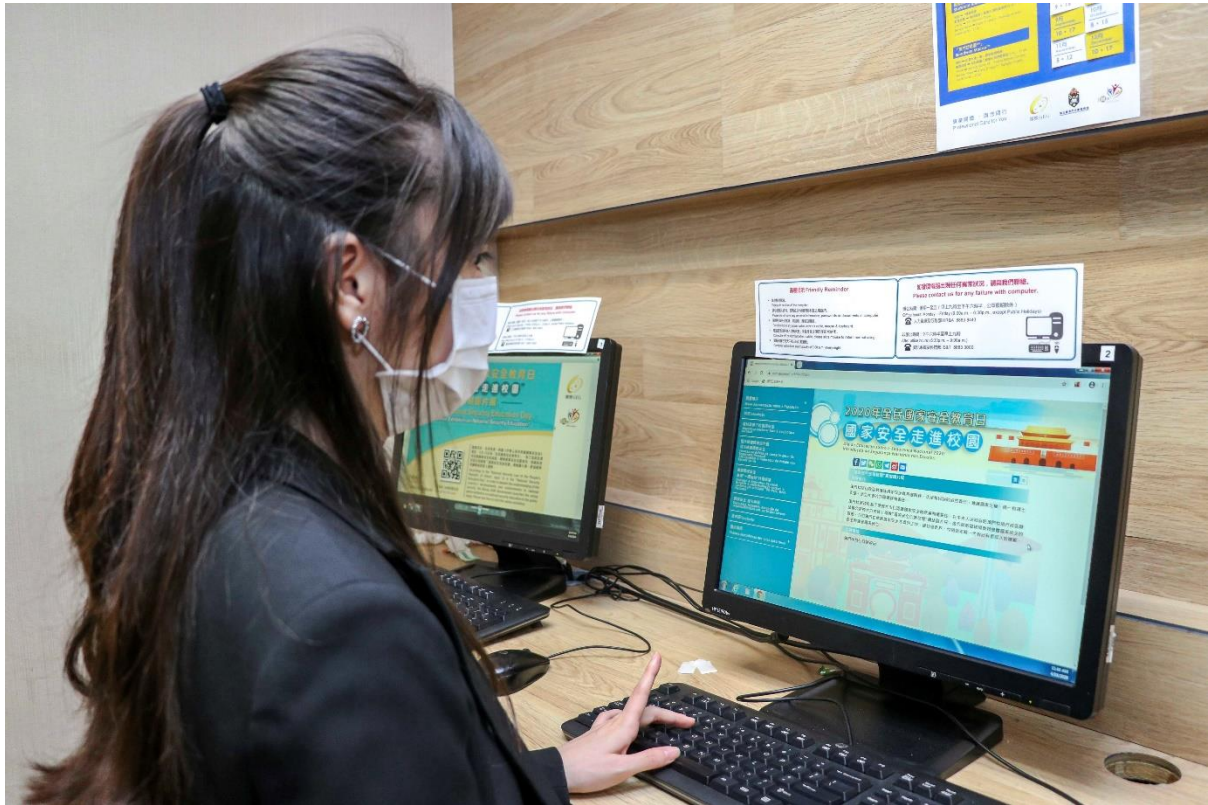

Photo Captions:

P001: GEG promoted the national security photo exhibition among team members through a variety of internal communication channels.

銀娛 GEG

P002: GEG team members visited the exhibition website in back-of-house area.