

Volunteer Team of Galaxy Entertainment Group Invited 50 Children to Easter Wonderland

March 24, 2013 – To share the joy of Easter Festival with children, the volunteer team of Galaxy Entertainment Group (“GEG”) invited about 50 children from Caritas Macau and Cradle of Hope Association to the Easter Wonderland at Galaxy Macau™ on Sunday; both the kids and the adults have enjoyed a fun-filled afternoon playing booth games and making festive decorations together.

Accompanied by around 10 GEG volunteers, the families and the staff from the associations arrived at the Easter Wonderland on Sunday afternoon. The children were immediately fascinated by the festive decorations and the carnival booths at the Easter Wonderland; some of the kids got so excited that they jumped around to visit the booths at the Easter fair. “This is the first time for me to visit an Easter carnival and I am so happy that I have won so many prizes today,” said Hui Ying Kit from Cradle of Hope Association.

The children were especially drawn to the bunny mask-making workshop where they created beautiful Easter masterpieces with the GEG volunteers. In addition to the exciting Easter booth hopping and delightful games, the GEG volunteers also offered holiday treats and goodies to the children to bring them a memorable Easter fun experience.

With gratitude towards the GEG volunteer team for arranging the outing for the children, Ms. Leong of Caritas Macau said, “Not only did the GEG volunteers invite our young members to this beautiful Easter Wonderland, but they also spread warmth and care to them through the special festive gifts. I am sure both the kids and the adults have enjoyed the activities today.”

To create a delightful playground for visiting guests at all ages, the East Square of Galaxy Macau is transformed into an Easter Wonderland featuring an array of festivities from March 16 to 31. Not only is the square adorned with colorful Easter eggs and floating balloons, but it also provides carnival booth games and festive decoration workshops for children and adults to have fun together.
